

Pikeville

KENTUCKY

Welcome to the City of Pikeville— a beautiful gem nestled in the heart of Kentucky’s Appalachian Mountains.

It won’t take long for you to see why we’ve been named an All American City by the National Civic League and twice-named one of “The 100 Best Small Towns in America”—home to exciting outdoor adventures, award-winning food, lively entertainment and street festivals, and unique shopping venues, the City of Pikeville has a little something for everyone.

As you enjoy your time here, don’t miss a chance to take in the awe-inspiring beauty of the Appalachian Mountains! With kayak experiences, river and horse trails, and incredible hiking opportunities—as well as a new, easy access overlook—the splendor of the mountains can be experienced here better than ever before.

Take a moment to push pause on the hustle and bustle of everyday living. Breathe in that sweet Appalachian breeze, and just like Pikeville’s earliest settlers long ago, let the mountains move you.

PIKEVILLE CUT-THROUGH

The Pikeville Cut-Through Project was a massive earth removal project and has been called “the eighth wonder of the world” by the New York Times. Spearheaded by former Pikeville Mayor William C. Hambley, the Cut-Through Project officially began in November 1973 for the purpose of relieving the City of Pikeville of frequent flooding.

Mayor William
Hambley

The project accomplished several objectives:

- rerouted the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River by creating a three-quarter-mile-long channel through Peach Orchard Mountain;
- removed railroad tracks and trains that passed through downtown releasing significant amounts of coal dust;
- redirected major highways U.S. Highway 23, 460, 119 and KY 80;
- provided Pikeville with nearly 400 acres of new land for economic and residential development.

The Cut-Through was completed in four phases spanning 14 years and costing approximately $80 million.

During Phase One of the project, approximately 13 million cubic yards of rock were blasted from Peach Orchard Mountain at a cost of more than $17 million. The second phase began March 4, 1980, rerouting the Levisa Fork to flow through a new channel. The railroad and coal tipples were relocated and 5 million cubic yards of dirt were transported to fill the now dry riverbed. The final phases began March 15, 1983, completing highway interchanges on both ends of the Cut-Through and the constructing Hambley Boulevard along the former railroad bed through downtown.

Cut-Through Overlook at Bob Amos Drive

The Pikeville Cut-Through Project is a unique engineering feat that provides a shining example of cooperation among agencies on federal, state and local levels. The Cut-Through is a marvel that visitors should not miss. Go to the Overlook at Bob Amos Park to view the entire Project.

MAYOR HAMBLEY STATUE

William C. Hambley, M.D. was a well respected physician and surgeon before becoming Mayor of Pikeville in 1960. Because of his unmatched leadership and ability to bring together more than 20 federal, state and local agencies to complete "Pikeville's splendid dream" of the Cut-Through, a monument was erected in the City Park as a tribute to the man who moved a mountain. Pikeville's progress and beauty is owed to Hambley's mountain-moving vision.

Distilleries & Breweries

DUELING BARRELS BREWERY & DISTILLERY

Founders Pearse and Deidre Lyons have long felt a special kinship with the mountains, craftsmanship and the people of Appalachia. After immigrating to Kentucky from Ireland, they developed an affinity for the region because of the many ways it reminds them of home. Dueling Barrels welcomes you to explore the rich history and culture of this area through the lens of brewing and distilling. Please check the website for hours of operation. Guests under the age of 21 are welcome but only those over the age of 21 will receive tasting tokens.

Hatfield & McCoy Feud Sites

Devil Anse Hatfield

Randolph McCoy

The Hatfield McCoy feud is the most recognized feud in American history. It took place along the Tug Fork of the Big Sandy River from 1863 to 1891. The Hatfields of West Virginia were led by William Anderson “Devil Anse” Hatfield, while the McCoy’s of Kentucky were led by Randolph “Ran’l” McCoy. There are several sites in Pikeville associated with the feud.

McCOY HOUSE - 235 Main Street

The McCoy’s moved to this house after the burning of their home at Blackberry by the Hatfields on January 1, 1888. Randolph operated a ferry across the Levisa Fork near this house. It is now the home of Chirico’s Restaurant.

HANGING SITE OF ELLISON MOUNTS

University of Pikeville, Kentucky Avenue

The hanging of Ellison “Cotton Top” Mounts was one of the last incidents of the feud. Mounts, a poor twenty-five-year-old who took part in the raid of the McCoy’s home, was found guilty of the murder of Alifair McCoy who was shot during the raid. Mounts pleaded guilty believing at worst he would be sentenced to life in prison. He was hanged on February 18, 1890.

DILS CEMETERY - 132 Chloe Road

The property was purchased in 1871 by Colonel John Dils who set aside space for his family and slaves to be buried. This is the first known cemetery in Eastern Kentucky to be integrated. Also buried in the cemetery are Randolph McCoy, his wife Sarah (Sally), their daughter Roseanna who ran away with Johnse Hatfield, and other members of the McCoy family. The Dils Cemetery is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Parking is at the Fire Department parking lot on Chloe Road.

Ellison Mounts hanging

Randolph McCoy house

PIKE COUNTY COURT HOUSE

146 Main Street

The Pike County Courthouse was the scene of the Hatfield clan trials for the murders of Tolbert, Randolph, Jr., Pharmed, Alifar, and Calvin McCoy. The defendants were lodged in the adjacent jail, found guilty and sentenced to life in prison, except for Ellison Mounts who was hanged.

York House

PERRY CLINE GRAVE SITE - Mt. Martha Drive

Perry Cline was a self-educated man who eventually became an attorney representing both the Hatfields and the McCoy's. He served as Pike County Sheriff for four years during the feud, was an elected leader of the community and a representative of the Kentucky legislature. His grave is at the end of Mt. Martha Drive.

YORK HOUSE - 223 Main Street

The historic Dils/York house was built after 1876 for August Dils and her husband James York, who was Randolph McCoy's attorney. During the 1890s, James York, Perry Cline and Randolph McCoy were neighbors on Main Street. Randolph met with York almost daily in the front parlor of the York house to discuss settling the feud. York continued to represent the McCoy's throughout the feud trials. The house was restored in 2016.

CIVIL WAR SITE

James A. Garfield

Pike and neighboring counties are rich in Civil War history. In the Pikeville City Park, Colonel James A. Garfield, the 20th President of the United States, was sworn in as Brigadier General of the Union Army in January 1862 by Squire John Charles at Ratliff Tavern. In March 1862, there were 3,500 Union troops encamped around Piketon (early name of Pikeville) on what is now the University of Pikeville campus.

PAULEY BRIDGE

The Pauley Bridge provides a serene view of the Levisa Fork and is a popular spot for photos. The bridge was built by the Works Progress Administration (WPA) from 1936 to 1940 and is constructed of sandstone. It is the only WPA bridge that uses sandstone in the structure. The bridge is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and is located on North Mayo Trail. The wooden bridge is closed to vehicle traffic, but is open to walkers and cyclists.

HISTORIC WALKING TOUR

The City of Pikeville features five districts that are listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Take a stroll downtown and take note of the 11 historical markers highlighting significant places, events and people from Pikeville including: Effie Waller Smith (Hambley Blvd) African-American poet who published three volumes of poetry in the early 20th century; the Pikeville Collegiate Institute (College Street) constructed of brick from the nearby river-bank that was fired on site; John Paul Riddle, (Main Street) an aviation pioneer who founded the Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Florida.

Come and enjoy all that the mountains of Pikeville have to offer. From soaring through the trees and over mountains sides to paddling down a quiet serene river, spend a day or two in an outdoor adventure.

FISHING ON THE LEVISA FORK

The blue-green waters of the Levisa Fork hold excellent populations of Smallmouth and Rock Bass along with sunfish, catfish, and an occasional Largemouth Bass. Floaters should wear protective shoes to prevent cuts from the many mussel shells lining the bottom of the river.

Free shuttles are available from Friday through Sunday, April through October, at H&M Stables at Bob Amos Park for those who own kayaks or canoes.

PADDLE ADVENTURES

The Levisa Fork holds gentle riffles and flowing shoals, perfect floating conditions for families and beginners. This section is ideal for canoes, kayaks and small one-man pontoon boats. As part of the Hatfield McCoy River Trails, it is a Kentucky Blue Water Trail. This two-hour trip will take you through breathtaking scenery including the Pikeville Cut-Through. This trip is on Class 1 water and is suitable for beginners and families.

RIVER TUBING

For a relaxing afternoon on a hot summer day, grab an inner tube and float down the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River. Inner tubes are available for rent at H&M Stables at Bob Amos Park.

SADDLE ADVENTURES

Take a scenic three-mile horse trail in the beautiful mountains overlooking the City of Pikeville. You will be accompanied by an experienced trail guide with experienced trail horses. Our horses are selected for beginner, intermediate and advanced riders to ensure your maximum safety and to enhance your trail-riding experience. There are a variety of times available for your convenience, depending on the scenery you want to experience. Allow us to help you make a memory in the mountains!

Summer Horse Camp

Children ages five through 12 will learn how to care for horses, horse and barn safety rules, and campers will receive riding instruction. For more information, call Hatfield McCoy Adventures.

Breaks Interstate Park

The spectacular Breaks Interstate Park, also known as the “Grand Canyon of the South,” is one of only two interstate parks in the nation. Located 30 miles from Pikeville, the park encompasses 4,500 acres of greenwood lands and mountain scenery.

Fishing

Laurel Lake, Beaver Pond, and the Russell Fork River offer a variety of fishing experiences, and the promise of a good catch. Laurel Lake, a twelve-acre man-made lake, and the two-acre Beaver Pond are stocked with bluegill and bass. The Russell Fork River is stocked with Rainbow Trout. A fishing license is required, and is available for purchase at the Park Visitor Center.

Whitewater Rafting

The Russell Fork River hosts varying levels of difficulty of whitewater rafting in the fall. Each weekend in October, water is released from the John Flannagan Dam and Reservoir, creating up to Class Five plus rapids flowing through the Breaks Gorge.

Hiking

More than 25 miles of hiking trails lace the park, varying from easy to difficult. Most are less than one mile long, but interconnected trails offer the more ambitious hiker a good choice of routes over varying terrain. Additionally, guided hikes are scheduled throughout the summer.

Rock Climbing

There are five locations throughout the park for avid rock climbers. All locations were hand-picked to give climbers a truly unique experience while impacting surrounding environments as little as possible.

Biking

The Mountain Bike Trail offers breathtaking scenery. The trail is a stack loop trail system offering up to nearly 12 miles of riding, from moderate to difficult.

Boating

Pedal boats, canoes and a John boat are available seasonally for rental on beautiful Laurel Lake. The boat dock is open daily from Memorial Day to Labor Day, and weekends only in April, May, and October.

Birding

Breaks Interstate Park is home to a wide variety of birds. Some of those include the Swainson's Warbler, Hooded Warbler, Black and White Warbler, Yellow Rumped Warbler, Turkey Vulture, Red Tail Hawk and Osprey.

Splash in the Park!

Open daily from Memorial Day through Labor Day. Features include a 4,000 square-foot beach-entry leisure pool with a current channel; four water slides; a spray ground; and in-pool basketball and volleyball areas.
